

The media specialist wants to reorganize the library with a new catalog system. He cannot afford to purchase the new system without sacrificing other needs.

The council is unaware of the current status of the school's achievement on assessments. The principal assures each member that department chairs have a handle on assessments and that teachers are using data from these assessments to drive their instruction.

Several reading teachers have asked to participate in a professional development training, which would equip them with new evidence-based strategies to promote reading in several content areas; however, there is not enough room in the department's budget to make this doable.

Although parent and family engagement has been proven to increase student achievement, parent involvement is lackluster at best. Parents are invited to attend academically charged events at school; however, the primary concern is filling seats at athletic events.
