RE: KDE Construction Project Managers

One of the challenges of undertaking Kentucky School “construction” projects is being aware of the many actions and process steps required by the regulations that govern school work and developing relationships with the individuals with whom you will work during the process. At KDE each district is assigned a Project Managers who is responsible for any construction project within that district. Attached is a list of each district and the name of the KDE Project Manager who administers to that district. This will assist you if you have questions about work in each district or to track correspondence within KDE.

If you have any questions or comments, please do not hesitate to call me or Tim Lucas at 502-564-4326 or send an email to Greg.Dunbar@education.ky.gov or Tim.Lucas@education.ky.gov.
