School Report Card Collection/Approval Tool Opening Delayed

The opening of the School Report Card (SRC) collection and approval tool is being delayed. The schedule has tentatively been revised to open the school data entry and School Profile Report tools first on Sept. 18, with the approval tool opening approximately two weeks later. Actual dates will be shared with district assessment coordinators (DACs) and SRC contacts once they are known. Associated training will be available for the new tools.

As a reminder, the collection and approval tool will be different for 2024 than in prior years. The BrightBytes platform is no longer used. AnLar is the new vendor developing the SRC collection and approval tool and public dashboards for 2024.

This delay does not impact the release of assessment and accountability data sets tentatively scheduled for Oct. 3. Previous communications and resources are available on the School Report Card Suite Resources webpage. Training resources will be added when they are available.
