MCHS wants to implement learning sessions on weekends that focus on Math, Reading, Science, and Writing for students that need extra help. These study sessions will focus on comprehension and how students can apply content within each subject. These study sessions will be supported through WKU in which they will send an instructor to help lead our learning session. The program can offer 16 hours of instruction over two weekends in which they will supply all materials needed. The cost of the learning program is $4500 plus $50 for each student with no more than 30 students. The total of this program is $5500. This will give our students more options and opportunities for learning all content. This will help students focus on Math and Reading which are subjects that students struggle with at our high school.
