The kits will not only help teachers utilize authentic student engagement in learning, but also build students' critical thinking skills, collaboration, and the use of technology tools and resources. This paired with professional learning in forensics and technology, will build teacher capacity to deliver instruction in areas that are of high interest to students. Supporting these professional learning opportunities will address IP#1. IP#1: Review and enact school wide instructional strategies to ensure that instruction is well planned and emphasizes authentic student engagement in student learning (e.g., collaborative student activities, self-reflection, use of technology learning tools and resources, development of critical thinking skills, individualized and differentiated instruction).
