Positive Behavior & Character Education Support Materials will be strategically placed throughout the school facility. These diverse resources will provide visual cues of desired behaviors and cultural expectations that foster a “psychology of success”—a concept rooted in the development of fundamental components of self-esteem, student achievement, intrinsic motivation, and needs satisfaction. A study conducted examined school climate and achievement at 30 urban public schools. The sample schools were drawn from a large geographical area and reflected schools from diverse ethnic and socio-economic communities. The results of the study confirmed a strong relationship between the quality of school climate and academic achievement levels. We feel that addressing culture and climate helps address Improvement Priority 2.9 (safe and secure place to learn and work) from the most recent audit at Stuart and will help improve positive school climate and culture. Please add $13,981.00 to MUNIS Code 0647- Items to be purchased will include and reference school wide expectations in all areas of the campus, matrix posters with PBIS expectations/rules for each classroom, restroom, cafeteria, halls, and stairwells.
